"I will lift up mine eyes unto the Hills"—The words have often been spoken to bless, soothe, and uplift one's soul after weary hours in life's valley. David was a young shepherd boy of the hills and 'knew the strength and the healing power of the mountains' — he, therefore, used them 'as symbols of the help that cometh from God'.

Lees-McRae, at Banner Elk, a place of rocks and hills, offers strength and opportunity for many people. The mountains of Avery County have long been an inspiration to many. The mountains prompted a Lees-McRae student to pen these lines:

> "I look at the mountains and perceive the wide, expansive sea. In the majesty of their height they raise our spirit with them. Our souls may ascertain true beauty in aesthetic appreciation of the mist shrouded peaks and crags. In our experience with people we can soar as high as the mountains that surround us. And from the serenity that the valleys offer gain an insight into life that will enable us to become vital human beings."

CHANGE COMES TO THE MOUNTAINS--BUT LEES-MCRAE'S

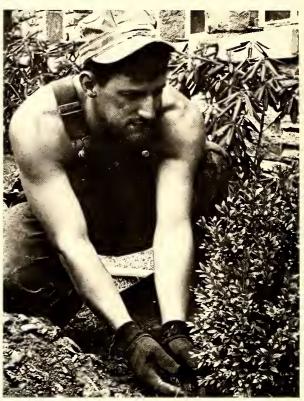

The fabulous ski resort at Beech Mountain is one of the many new resort complexes in the area – a great change from the surroundings pictured below in the girls physical education classes of the early 1930's.

Change prompted Shepherd M. Dugger to write in WAR TRAILS OF THE BLUE RIDGE: "If sympathy is sorrow, then I am acquainted with grief – grief for the pioneer fathers and mothers of Banner Elk who earned their beautiful valley so hard, and are now remembered so poorly."

Lees-McRae will long remember its proud heritage. Amid a changing world, Lees-McRae must hold true to its purpose: In the mountains, of the mountains, for the mountains.

Students still find the opportunity to earn most of their expenses through various 'work' projects. From the very beginning, Lees-McRae College has believed that the highest education is Christian. Offering educational opportunity in a Christian environment, it strives to give meaning to its belief that Christian ideals and a trained intelligence are essentials for a full life.

ROLE IS TO OFFER SOUND EDUCATION IN A CHANGING WORLD

The students bring with them the fresh "newness" seen in every year of the past. Bring with them smiles and eagnerness and purpose; loud shouts and big talk – and most of it sincere. Here students find something to remember, but more than that something to live by. There is no value in hours, unless they are well spent, no worth in labor divided in cause. Every student must strive to gain confidence, and have an assurance of why the spirit of Lees-McRae is the spirit that makes a man or woman responsible, sincere, and above all, constant to the ways of Lees-McRae life.

Well remembered: lost sleep . . .

Bobcats traveling to Yuma, Arizona . . .

Only a few reminders of those happy hunting days are left. One, the Elk River, which has its source on Grandfather Mountain and flows through the valley in which Banner Elk is situated, still bears the name of the herds that once drank from its waters. Another stream, the Shawneehaw, calls to mind some of the hunters who camped on its banks. The mountain, now known as Beech from the many beech trees that cover its sides, was called by the Indians "Klonteskah" or "pleasant", so renowned was it for the birds in its forest. Another evidence of the hunting days of the Indians is the absence of Indian relics that show domestic life, and the abundance of arrowheads that have been found from the banks of Elk River to the topmost Pinnacle of Beech Mountain. Some of the arrowheads are large enough to have been used in hunting large game, but the greater number are the small flints that cut short the flight of a pheasant or quail.

In the years that the arrowheads have lain unused among the rocks, gunpowder and shot have taken their place; the hillsides have been shorn of their giant trees, the noiseless Indian trail has been replaced by the rushing highway. With the advance of civilization, the hunter's game has vanished."

"The mountain surrounded hillsides, on which the little North Carolina village of Banner Elk is located, were once known to the Indians as a choice hunting ground. Here, if we are to believe the reports of the old settlers, the Indians built their campfires for a time under the spreading chestnut and majestic hemlock and killed their winter supply of bear meat, venison and small game.

This spot, which was too cold for permanent settlement, made an excellent hunting ground. It was well guarded by mountain peaks from which sentinels could watch for an approaching enemy or rival hunters. Through its valley flowed the sparkling waters of many mountain streams and from under its rocks bubbled more than one renowned spring. Native to its soil were the sweet hemlock and white pine, that made both beds and fuel plentiful; there were chestnuts, beech nuts, the wild cherry, servis, blackberries, wild strawberries, blueberries, assuring the camper of provisions. Above all, the forests were the homes of small game and birds, especially pheasants, quail, wild turkeys and ducks; and the dark pools of the streams flashed with speckled beauties and rainbow trout, which were far superior to the fish of the slow and muddy water of the plain. Many were the campfires that mingled their smoke with the green tips of the hemlock; many were the pointed arrows that whistled above the tangled mass of rhododendron.

LEES-MCRAE EMERGES AS PINNACLE OF EDUCATION

Even the Beech Mountain underwent rapid changes... changed its face... its appearance... changes that will reflect in the student body... now... and those to come... the mountain has taken on a new meaning... the effects to the college community have not truly been felt yet...

LEES-MCRAE COLLEGE is many things. Most important, it is people. Some are students working to add to their store of knowledge. Some simply there to perpetuate their prejudices. Others just looking for a mate. Happily, most achieve their purpose. Some of the people are faculty and administration. The workings of the administration remain a mystery to most students. The faculty meet every day. The administration and faculty combine efforts to challenge the students to excel and to become a part of this unique institution. LEES-McRAE is many things. LEES-McRAE represents an idea that is not realized in the stone of its buildings, nor the accumulated wisdom of its library or faculty, but in the minds of the young men and women that attend the "Campus in the Clouds".

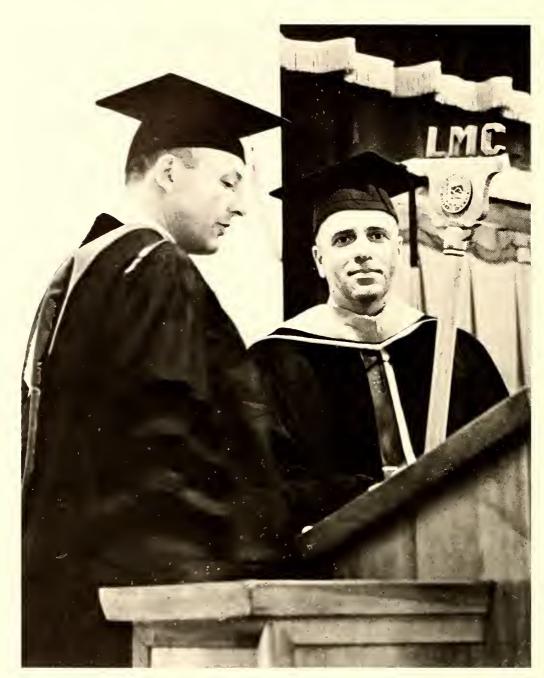

LEES-McRAE is the students; the students are LEES-McRAE – not as they exist one by one, but as they are unified by the idea that is uniquely our own . . . its people, its rules and traditions, courses of study, its opportunities in both cultural and career areas, its full calendar of sports, and its emphasis on personal religious values and on vocational guidance. Each of these has a contribution to each student's individual welfare and growth. By capturing something of the atmosphere of our campus and classroom, with the magic of the camera and the wonder of print, we hope to show some of the things education at LEES-McRAE means.

Students may leave these mountains with a real vision of service - most find what they seek in the hills - at LEES-McRAE.

The Lees-McRae campus is more than just housing for the people. The campus can be an inspiration to all of those who look up and around. Its buildings are in a setting of mountain splendor. Students come to this college in the beautiful valley of the Elk, surrounded by the picturesque mountains. When they leave, they realize that it was 'home'.

AS AREA BECOMES CENTER OF RESORT MECCA ...

The Mace of Office was presented in 1968 to Dr. Hawthorn Clough Evans, Jr. (right) as he was the ninth president to be inaugurated at Lees-McRae College. Dr. Evans was inducted by the Reverend Herbert Underwood, Chairman of the Board of Trustees.

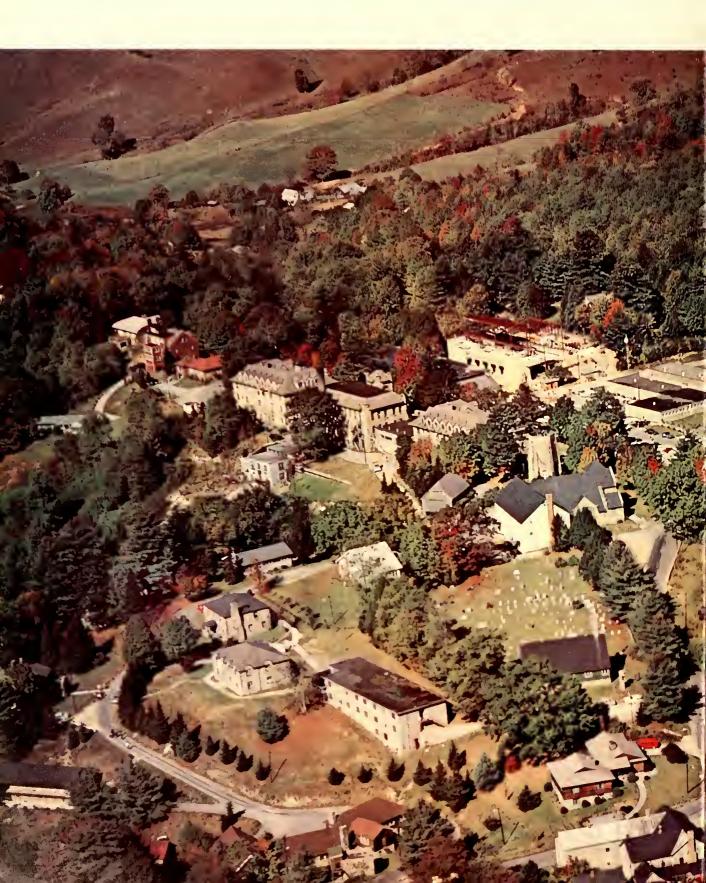

In view of the many years that Lees-McRae has existed, there is absolutely no way of determining how many youngsters have found a good education here – have had opened to them the door to a better, more productive way of life. We plan no radical changes . . . only to renew the purposes for which Lees-McRae was founded – and emphasize our motto: In the mountains, of the mountains, for the mountains. I can only profit from the work that has been done before I came here . . . We hope that my administration can meet with the same success at Lees-McRae that has been true of the past administrations. We want to see Lees-McRae be able to offer educational opportunities to the underachiever, and to the culturally and scholastically disadvantaged. At the same time offer a maximum challenge to the scholastically superior student – To always give priority to our motto: In the mountains, of the mountains, for the mountains. This is Lees-McRae's role today. Your support and interest will make this institution an even larger, better equipped campus tomorrow – and will help this Chrisian College extend its educational opportunities to even more students. I sincerely hope we can all work together – now, and in the future – for a greater Lees-McRae.

CLOUD-HIGH VIEW OF CAMPUS SHOWS EXPANSION ...

NEW LIBRARY UNDER CONSTRUCTION ... MORE PLANNED

This fall students arrived on campus to be greeted by the sight of a new library and many other campus improvements, and the hope for the eventual fulfillment of a dream. Over the period of years, we have been allowed to bear witness to the partial fulfillment of that dream.

What is this dream which we are seeing turned into a reality? It is the progress being made in building Lees-McRae College into one of the finest Junior Colleges in the South. We will see more progress and growth as a New Student-Union-Cafeteria Building and a gymnasium are in the immediate plans for the future. But the work is not yet finished, for a college must constantly grow and expand. Our college is doing just this.

EXTRACURRICULAR ACTIVITIES

Dr. Evans, Mr. Hessey, and Mr. Krege flanked NASA astronaut Charles M. Duke upon his arrival at the airport. Once on campus, TV cameras hummed in the Priscilla White Room as Major Duke held a news conference for area newsmen. After his interview with radio-TV and newspapermen, Major Duke gave an illustrated lecture on the space program to the LMC students. Major Duke was on the back-up crew for the historic Apollo 11, man on the moon, flight.

Lees-McRae has long been known for its informal atmosphere and friendly student-faculty relationships. The complaint of the university student, "Nobody knows my name," cannot be voiced by a Lees-McRae student who is willing to respond to the greetings of those who meet him on campus.

In addition, however, to the every day experience of knowing and enjoying companionship, there is, for the student, the opportunity of taking part in a varied program of social events. Clubs and organizations sponsor sock hops, talent shows, hootenannies, plays, hikes and picnics, movies, intramural competition, banquets, teas, and receptions. There are four semi-formal dances: at Homecoming and Christmas, and on Valentine's Day and May Day.

The college also brings an attractive extra-curricular cultural program to the campus with featured groups and individuals too numerous to mention here.

Paul Anka in concert delighted the LMC audience.

Bonfires, Talent Shows, Soc Hops enriched social life for students.

Paul Anka brought big name in entertainment to Lees-McRae audience.

Halloween carnival offered games, fun for everyone.

Lees-McRae is faced with the paramount problems of keeping pace with a fast-moving society and jet-swift revolution of a world in progress. The College must gear its programs to meet the many challenges of education today.

The College of the past, the present, and the future provides a program which will train the intellect, strengthen the body, and provide a rich, spiritual, and social life leading to wholesome personal living. The students of today utilize the same undefinable spirit that stirred students of the past to excel and profit from an education at Lees-McRae College.

TRANSFER CURRICULA EMPHASIZES CORE OF LIBERAL ARTS

Today's advanced science and technology place much stronger emphasis on a college education. The existing colleges and universities are being taxed far beyond their present capacities. As a result, they are forced to turn away more and more qualified students. The Junior College fills an increasingly vital need by helping the slightly immature young person develop the attitudes and study habits that enable him to go on to complete four years of work. Many young people finishing high school are simply not ready for the complete freedom and lack of supervision that prevails in the impersonal atmosphere of our universities and senior colleges. In the more intimate climate of a Junior College, it is possible to offer this much-needed guidance. The LMC faculty works on the premise of an adage uttered over 100 years ago by President Abraham Lincoln: "The most important business a person can engage is education."

Alumni support to their alma mater has been misunderstood as meaning financial support only. Most important is the moral support of the alumnus. This is vital to the success of the college if it is to have any. It is largely by the extent of support accorded to a college by its own graduates that the world judges the right of that college to seek support and cooperation from others. The student who completes his alma mater's curricula and uses his diploma as a passport into the world must support that institution.

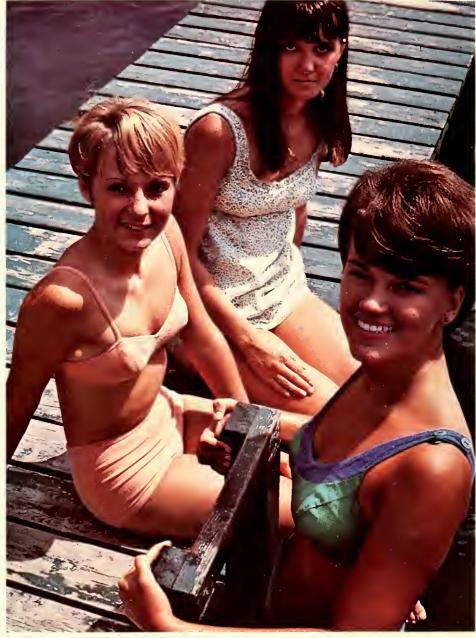

LEES-MCRAE CONSIDERS ITS ALUMNI THE MOST IMPOR-TANT PEOPLE IN EDUCATION TODAY . . .

Their importance is being the principal product of their alma mater - the principal claim that she can make to fame. Few suspect that to a degree it is by the alumni that an institution is judged. They are important to education because of the support they give to their alma mater. Financial support comes immediately to mind. This is indispensible, but the support they give in other forms is just as indispensible and impressive as well. Alumni push and guide legislative programs and strengthen educational institutions. They act as academic talent scouts, for their alma mater, meeting and talking with college-bound high school students. They are among the staunchest defenders of high principles in education. To LMC, alumni are important in another way one that has nothing to do with what alumni can do for the institution themselves. Unlike most other forms of human enterprise, educational institutions are not in business for what they can get out of it. They exist so that free people, through education can keep civilization on the forward move. Those who ultimately do this are the alumni. Thus, only through the alumni of LMC can this institution fulfill its task.

LEES-McRAE ... The Campus in the Clouds . . . Here students find something to remember, but more than that something to live by. Here, the constant challenge, the desire to excel, a stimulus for learning is found. Here, the search for the challenge. In an atmosphere conducive to study students labor as they grasp friendships, happiness and achievement. Each student may look back into the past, examining the aspects of Lees-McRae that rendered service; and helped mold character and cultivate maturity. Look back at the challenges encountered . . . and the results . . .

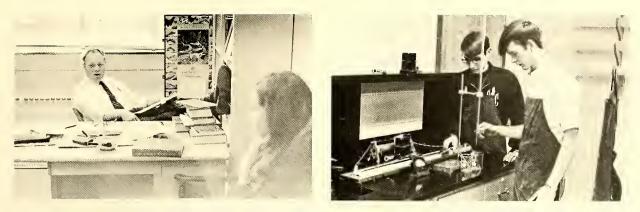

2 years at LMC are filled with unforgettable memories.

The ultimate goal . . .

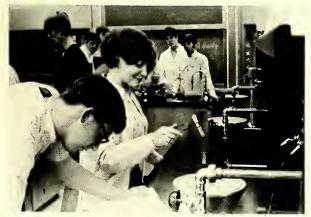

Individual attention ... personal attention by each instructor in small class situations provide the student the opportunity to learn. With the instructor's help and the student's incentive and motivation, many "locked doors" succumb and fall to the ever-persistent desire to learn and to be taught.

CLASSROOM CENTER OF MOST ACTIVITY ON LMC CAMPUS

The student attends classes at the hospital and then volunteers two hours weekly to work at the hospital. Who knows what the future holds for LMC? In the planning stage are programs involving: the addition of a language laboratory, the addition of a course in the Hotel-Motel Management with practical experience for students on Beech Mountain, expansion of the Music and Art departments and the addition of courses in Speech and Drama. These programs, like all other already established programs, will become a part of LMC's living tradition. They will, like the curriculum of LMC today, enable the students to become better prepared for the world of tomorrow. This is the important aspect of LMC's tradition, that it tempers the lives of its students with the knowledge of past successes and failures, enabling them to assimilate these facts into their practical existence.

The character and reputation of the college, its standing in the education world, the measure of its influence on those who live and study on its campus, is determined in large measure by the dedication and devotion of its faculty. This spirit will be evident in future generations of Lees-McRae College students and faculty.

RICH CURRICULUM ... FACULTY SEEKS TO ENLIGHTEN

McRae is not in its stone buildings, nor in its library or faculty, but in the minds of the students who attend this institution. As students of the academic year 1968-1969, this was the Lees-McRae we knew.

Lees-McRae offers a wide selection of courses under the liberal arts curriculum. Ten specific areas of concentration are available to the student interested in the medical field. By following the liberal arts curriculum and choosing specific electives related to his field of study, a student may earn an Associate Degree in the area of Fine Arts or Science. These programs include further study at a senior institution. For those of us who do not wish to pursue a baccalaureate program but desire a general education to meet the cultural and citizenship needs of our society, Lees-McRae has provided the General Terminal curricula.

Every college freshman must take courses of instruction that include freshman composition, English literature, a foreign language, biology, zoology or botany, freshman mathematics, western civilization, and physical education. German, French, and Spanish comprise the selection of foreign languages offered.

Many hours of work, study, investigation, and frustration are rewarded with excellence through achievement.

EDUCATIONAL OPPORTUNITY ABOUNDS AT 'CAMPUS IN THE CLOUDS' . . .

Quiet, comfortable facilities where a student can find a niche for study is found on the Lees-McRae campus.

LMC offers a course in advanced composition, for the student who possesses an acute interest in composition and wishes to expand his ability in the techniques of creative and expository composition. Also offered under the Division of Fine Arts and Languages are the History and Appreciation of Art and the History and Appreciation of Music, and courses in voice, piano, and organ. For the student interested in participating in a choral group, the college offers College Choir with three semester hours college credit for one year's participation.

The Division of Natural and Physical Sciences offers those Lees-McRae students who wish to further their knowledge of the biological sciences, such courses as Bacteriology, Comparative and Chordate Anatomy, Human Anatomy, Animal Physiology, Microbiology, and Local Flora. For the student interested in the field of Mathematics, the college offers advanced courses in Calculus and Differential Equations. For those who wish to attain a degree in Religion and Philosophy Lees-McRae offers, other than the one-year survey course in Bible, advanced courses such as Old Testament studies, the person and work of Christ, and Introduction of Philosophy. Many electives are available to us in the area of Social Sciences such as Geography, State and Local Government, and Social Problems. One interesting aspect of this department is the preparation and competition of debating. The Debate Series is a part of the mass lecture program, a series of lectures on the art of the different periods in history.

Small classes and individual instruction aid the student in acquiring the necessary learning skills.

The atmosphere on campus is conducive to good study and aids the learning process.

The Division of Business and Secretarial Studies offers Business Math for Secretaries, Secretarial Studies, and Principles of Accounting, in addition to the basic Shorthand and Typing courses. Lees-McRae offers a special secretarial course for those who wish to be Medical Secretaries. The courses offered include Medical Shorthand, Transcription and Medical Terminology. This is a terminal program which ends with a nine to twelve month internship at an affiliated hospital upon completion of the required courses and graduation from Lees-McRae.

Opportunity to investigate and question \dots Small classes, and after class discussion groups, afford the student an opportunity to learn.

The Division of Health and Physical Education offers Personal Hygiene, a classroom course directed toward modern health problems and healthy daily living. Lees-McRae offers a very intense intercollegiate, intramural, and recreational program, with a long and successful intercollegiate history in football, basketball, track, cross-country, tennis and golf. Intramural activities include basketball, tennis, volleyball, billiards, wrestling, softball, table tennis, badminton, fencing, and bridge. For the student who possesses a special interest in the medical field, Lees-McRae sponsors a club in co-ordination with the Cannon Memorial Hospital called the Eleanor Osborne Memorial Chapter of Hospital Volunteers.

Instructors through dedication, preparation, and effective approach to the material enlighten the student under their instruction.

After class investigation and study helps broaden one's knowledge.

September, 1968 saw the return of familiar faces of "wise fools." Many arrived early to assist the administration with Registration and Orientation. The sophs sponsored the "Powder Puff Football Game" that served as a source of acquainting the freshmen with the antics of their upperclassmen.

Many challenges and opportunities faced the sophomores this year. For some it has been an opportunity to gain character from responsibility; for many a first glimpse at reality. For others it has been toilsome trying to get enough quality points to graduate.

Rememberance of good times and hard work will go with each sophomore and a lump will form in their throats as they recollect their memories of Lees-McRae life.

FROSH CLASS LARGEST IN SCHOOL'S 38 YEAR HISTORY ...

L. To R. – Lee Thompson, Vice-Pres.; Martha Walker, Trea.; Laurie Ghent, Sec.; and Fish Gupton, President of the Freshman Class.

As the freshmen arrived August 28 they stepped into a entirely different way of life than they had ever been subjected to. Getting to know their fellow students became foremost in each freshman's mind. Soon they discovered that the keynote of college life is responsibility. Responsibility to study, to oneself and to their school.

Now as they prepare for their sophomore year a new awareness of one's maturing has taken place and of an inkling that soon, all too soon, their times at the "Campus in the Clouds" will end.

"Here comes the judge" rings out as his honor Charlie Dozier presides over Rat Court '69.

WHO'S WHO AMONG STUDENTS IN AMERICAN JUNIOR COLLEGES ...

For the second time Lees-McRae had fourteen sophomores selected for the national publication, WHO'S WHO AMONG STUDENTS IN AMERICAN COLLEGES. The publication recognizes students for their outstanding contributions to their campus. The student's scholarship, leadership, and participation in educational and extra curricular activities, his general citizenship and his promise of future usefulness is recognized. It is a means of compensation for outstanding efforts and achievement; a standard of management for students comparable to other recognized scholastic and service organizations.

STUDENTS FIND TIME TO INVOLVE THEMSELVES ...

Traditionally Lees-McRae is noted for its spirit and its academic achievements. In addition to their heavy work load for their studies, the students at LMC always find time to involve themselves in various campus activities.

The Order of the Tower, the SGA, the Demostheneans and Sullivanians were on hand last August 28 when the uncertain members of the Class of 1970 came to campus for the first time. The Order of the Tower, the leadership group on campus, combines the leaders from most of the clubs at LMC. The Student Government Association represents the student body and always promotes the interest of the student. The Demostheneans and Sullivanians are related campus groups, that stress leadership. The Women's Athletic Association, the Christian Council, the Monogram Club, Fellowship of Christian Athletes, Pep Band, Pep Club, Cheerleaders and all of the other fine organizations on campus have one goal, that is to build a greater Lees-McRae.

STUDENT GOVERNMENT LED BY CAMPBELL, SGA STRESSES

"Soupy" Campbell, President of the Student Government Association for 1968-69, directs a meeting of all the club presidents on campus at an Inter-Club Council meeting.

The Student Government Association, of which every student automatically becomes a member, governs the student body. The purpose of the SGA is "to unify the student body in the common goal for self-government in order to assume responsibility in dealing effectively with matters of student affairs; to perpetuate the best traditions of the College; and to strengthen the co-operation among the students, faculty and administration." The SGA is in charge of all assemblies, has general supervision of campus activities, and makes suggestions to the administration for improvements in campus life. The SGA President meets with members of the faculty and administration through the Student Life Committee. The President also sits on the Discipline Committee as a voice for the students.

This year the SGA was piloted by Clyde "Soupy" Campbell. Worth Green held the Vice-Presidency, and was Chairman of the Food Committee.

THE ORDER OF THE TOWER

Co-sponsors Richard Jackson, Lewis Hall, and Don Baker discuss past experiences with the club.

Denny Wolfe, first President of the Order of the Tower, shakes hands with the 1968 President, George Lentz.

The Order of the Tower, established in 1962, serves the college and administration in a leadership capacity to promote the general welfare of the college. Membership is limited to twelve members chosen from the rising Sophomore Class. Their duties begin as newly elected members when they marshal at the Commencement Convocation in May.

This year's Order of the Tower began their service to the school by assisting with the registration and orientation of the arriving freshmen. The annual Order of the Tower Halloween Carnival was held to help provide money for the various clubs on campus. A float was entered in the Homecoming Parade and the Tower submitted suggestions to the Discipline Committee of which the President is a member. In mid-April the First Annual Order of the Tower Day was held to honor all the past members.

PHI THETA KAPPA ...

Phi Theta Kappa is an honorary fraternity comprised of students who have maintained a standard of high academic achievement. In order to be eligible for membership, a student must maintain an overall average of a "B" with no grade lower than a "C". Lees-McRae's chapter is known as Beta Tau. Members are inducted into the organization at the end of each semester.

During the 1968-69 school year, the organization has been active in many campus functions. At the annual Halloween Carnival the club sponsored a series of bingo games. The club sponsored a study hall during the first semester. Phi Theta Kappa began the second semester by assisting in the planning of the Dean's List Banquet. Other activities for the year included the honoring of new members at a banquet, the awarding of a scholarship to an outstanding sophomore at the Honors and Awards Night in the spring, and the selling of refreshuments during exam week. The club also held its annual "slave" sale. This year's slave sale was known as Rent-a-Student and the members were rented to the faculty and administration members to perform odd jobs.

The members of Phi Theta Kappa assisted the math department with the math contest for area high school students.

The Sullivanian Sorority, a leadership and service club for women, was organized in 1934 and was named in honor of Mary Mildred Sullivan, a benefactor of the college. The main purpose of the organization is to develop character, leadership and personality through fellowship and service to others.

At the beginning of the year, the Sorority worked diligently on the orientation program to help women students become settled in their first year of college life. The Sorority also assisted the administration in promoting the sale of tickets to the Paul Anka Concert. Soon after classes began the club gave an informal tea for all freshmen women on campus in order to promote friendship and a sense of unity among the girls.

In December the Sullivanians, along with the Demostheneans, sponsored the Christmas Dance, which featured Gene Barbour and the Cavaliers.

MONOGRAM CLUB

The Monogram Club is the largest club on Lees-McRae's campus. Membership is limited to those men who have earned a letter in collegiate athletics. The purpose of the club is to foster wholesome athletic interests, greater participation in athletic events by each student and to set a high standard of sportsmanship among the students at Lees-

McRae.

Each year the Monogram Club purchases a plaque honoring each sophomore who has lettered two years in a varsity sport. This plaque is a token of appreciation to those who serve Lees-McRae and the lettermen's organization well. The club also sells refreshments at varsity contests and cosponsors the annual May Dance with the WAA.

WOMEN'S ATHLETIC ASSOCIATION HAS LONG HISTORY

The Women's Athletic Association, one of the earliest organizations formed at Lees-McRae College, represents sportsmanship, good character, leadership, and dependability. Various athletics and an intramural program is provided for these women.

Possessing a good character is the main qualification for the eligibility into the club. Participation in one-half of the College intramurals and three-fourths majority of voting members completes the qualifications for membership.

The officers of W.A.A. for the year of 1968-69 were: Kitty Monk, President; Doris Cardin, Vice-President; and Evie Lytton, Secretary-Treasurer.

During the past year, many achievements were made by the club, with the help of the club sponsor, Mrs. Geneva Lytton.

Mums were sold during the Homecoming Season, and the club sponsored Cecie Gorrell as Homecoming Attendant. The club sponsored a booth at the Halloween Carnival, and a raffling of a television set.

DEMOSTHENEANS REPRESENT LEADERSHIP, FELLOWSHIP,

The Demostheneans is the men's leadership organization on campus. Its objectives are to develop young men culturally, academically, and spiritually while encouraging them to participate fully in the various activities of the college.

During the year the club engaged itself in various activities such as being host and judge at the LMC Ski Tournament on Beech Mountain. The "Car Bash" at the Halloween Carnival was sponsored by the 1968-69 Demostheneans and along with Phi Theta Kappa members they sponsored snack sales during exams. As Christmas approached the two largest leadership clubs on campus, the Sullivanians and the Demostheneans, sponsored the Christmas Dance.

Radio Station WLMC originated from the office of the Public Relations Director in the Tennessee building in 1956. The Radio Club was directed by Dr. Ivan Stafford, Director of Public Relations. The initial broadcast was made in the fall of 1956 with the staff of Jerry Huskey, Baxter Shaffer, Barry Noll, Harold Walker, Bob Gregory, Bud Lineburger, and Don Baker. WLMC went on the air in the afternoons and evenings from 1:00 to 5:00 and 7:00 to 11:00 week days and existed until 1960 when the offices in Tennessee Building were renovated for dormitory space. WLMC was moved to the Tower until 1961 when it ceased to exist due to lack of funds, student support and enthusiasm. The radio station concept was revived again this year by Bill Orcutt and several enthusiastic supporters. Some equipment was purchased and a filing system for records was established with the acquisition of a new inventory of records. Radio WLMC did not go on the air this year, but the first steps in reviving the station were made. The members of the radio club hope that this will be the beginning of an old tradition on the campus - Radio Station WLMC.

ONTAROGA STAFF BELIEVES "EXCELLENCE IS THE FRUIT

John Flowers, Co-Editor, is a freshman and took over annual along with Patricia Haywood after Miss Barnum left.

Tradition has always been an integral part of life at Lees-McRae. This year the Ontaroga has attempted to bring the campus a little closer together by the many candids depicting student life. One can't find the normal student life in the catalogue or any brochure; this is why we have tried to show to everyone that Lees-McRae is the greatest student body, in our eyes, of any school in America.

We have put many hard, long hours into trying to make this year's Ontaroga the best annual in Lees-McRae's history. We hope that in the years to come one will look back through this annual and will recall the fond memories of his or her two-year stay at the "Campus in the Clouds".

It is impossible to depict all of the great things that happen in the year but we hope that we have as complete a record as possible.

For our inspiration we would like to thank Mr. Baker who has given of himself unselfishly as sponsor. We should also like to thank Wily Bobcat for his spirit that has driven us these past months.

Miss Barbara Barnum, honor student, active in campus life, edited the Ontaroga the first semester but left school heeding the call of matrimony leaving editors Flowers and Haywood pummelling the typewriter keys.

The ability of every student to become involved in LMC's athletics is a rewarding experience. The challenge of competition, the supreme satisfaction in overcoming a foe, and the challenge to take defeat become a part of every student at Lees-McRae.

Intramurals, an intergral part of the physical education program, encourages every student to become involved in friendly, character-building competition with his fellow classmates.

The mountainous heights and the chasmic, valley-like lows which accompany victory and defeat are a part of the whirling vortex of college life at Lees-McRae. This vortex draws each student in and then spins them out better students and citizens.

Some 50 Banner Elk fans accompanied the Bobcats to the Yuma football classic-a bowl game that is destined to gain national prestige and popularity.

"We're extremely proud of our boys," Bobcat Coach George Litton stated, "we just didn't put enough points on the board to win. AW has a great team. We're returning home, starting extensive recruiting to combine with our talented freshmen to attain an unprecedented third bowl game bid in three years."

"The only place Yuma's hospitality failed," stated Don Baker, "was on the football field."

The El Toro Bowl was a great success from everyone's point of view - a first-class bowl with first-class planning and management.

Head Coach and Athletic Director George Litton is surrounded by bowl trophies from the National JUCO Championship in Savannah in 1967 and the El Toro in 1968. Also shown are the outstanding achievement by a Western North Carolina team and 'Team of the Year' award presented by the Mountain Amateur Athletic Association and Pepsi Cola of Asheville, respectively.

"ONCE IN A LIFETIME" OPPORTUNITY

The News-Enterprise, Yuma, Arizona stated: "The Chamber of Commerce should award honorary membership to the El Toro Foundation for the magnificent job done in presenting the first annual El Toro Bowl. Few things could have created better relations between our area and the southeastern section of the United States than the collaboration that went on between the visitors from Lees-McRae College and the people of our area.

Dr. H. C. Evans, Jr., president of Lees-McRae, said it all at the morning's breakfast for the college officials, NJCAA members and the board of directors of the Foundation. He stated,

'Yuma has gained some ardent supporters in the last few days. The treatment afforded our people has been outstanding and I have to go back to North Carolina as the foremost Yuma supporter.'

I have never seen a group of visitors meet and melt into a town and its people in the manner of those from Banner Elk, N.C. They were wonderful people who joined in everything planned and made the most of it. Events leading to the El Toro Bowl and the game itself were a far cry from that seen last December in Las Vegas. The Foundation people had planned and planned well. From the moment the plane landed and the visitors dis-embarked, they seemed to be in a state of surprise at the courtesies provided them.

Over a hundred Yumans were on hand to welcome them to our city, led, of course, by the Caballeros de Yuma. Buses were on hand to provide transportation to their hotel, a service provided not only for the team but for the supporters as well. Even the baggage was taken care of, being taken to the hotel for distribution. Reservations had been made in advance and, only a few hours after arrival, visitors were out seeing the sights of our area.

Bus trips were provided to Mexico, to the prison, the Sand Dunes and to AWC for everyone. If a wish was made known, the El Toro members soon made the wish fulfilled. Top it off with the performance at the bowl game itself and we find we have a wonderful means of forwarding the cause of Yuma and our area."

The players and guests were treated to a buffet supper in the Star Dust Hotel lounge with awards and presentations by the El Toro Bowl Committee, Entertainment was provided by a Mexican marachi band and the Yuma Glee Club.

BOBCATS GIVEN RED CARPET TREATMENT IN YUMA,

Captains Marvin Parrott and Bill Martin had to trade their toboggans for sombreros when they headed for the El Toro Bowl in Yuma, Arizona. Although 15 inches of snow fell in early November in Banner Elk, the Bobcats found sunny skies and temperatures in the 80's when they faced the Matadors on December 14, in Yuma.

Porter was the only freshman among the six Region Ten gridders that were picked of the Nation's sixty "best." Porter was named to the Helms Foundation All-American selections.

BOBCATS POST 8-1-1 RECORD, LOSE FIRST REGULAR SEA-SON GAME IN TWO YEARS TO FERRUM

Rick Ard, leading ground gainer for the 'Cats (426 yards in eight games), picks up long yardage against Gardner-Webb. The game ended in a deadlock 14-14. Ard scored on this 5-yard run but it was called back due to an off-side penalty. The nullified TD would have won the game for the Bobcats.

Tom the Bomb Kirk (20) and Frank James (67) close in on GW quarterback during Bulldog-Bobcat action in Boiling Springs. The tenacious Cat defense kept the Dogs looking over their shoulders and listening for 'hoof-beats'.

Lees-McRae launched its season with an astounding offensive showing against the Appalachian freshmen team. Richard Riley and Richard Ard both tore through the "Mountaineer" line for good yardage, and Marvin Parrott took up where he left off last season by tossing four touchdown passes. When the smoke cleared the "Cats" had amassed 538 total yards and a 56-20 victory.

In the second game of the season the "Cats" blistered the baby "Bucs" of ETSU 28-3 as Richard Riley racked up 123 yards rushing. The defense began to jell, as expected, and in a superb effort allowed only one field goal. George Porter, Frank Fragomeni, and Frank James were standouts in an outstanding defense.

The "Bobcats" weren't so successful as they journeyed to arch-rival Gardner-Webb for the first away game of the season. The game started out fine as Richard Ard scored from five yards out to give LMC a six point lead. The educated toe of Bernie Saunders made the score 7-0. Gardner-Webb came back to score twice to lead 14-7. Then late in the game the 'Cats scored to tie it up and from there they battled to a tie.

"Cats" sink Newport News 41-3 in a successful homecoming. Marvin Parrott threw 3 TDs and Jeff Waldenmayer threw 2 more to lead the potent attack which gained 552 total yards. The defense was not to be denied either as it gathered in six interceptions, two by Tom Kirk, Gary Moore, and Frank Fragomeni.

Marvin Parrott seems to be looking to the referee for help as the GW Bulldogs unscramble from the sideline pile-up. Parrott had too much for the 'Dogs, however, as he connected on 14 passes in 20 attempts for 155 yds. and hurled one TD strike.

FERRUM BECOMES NATIONAL JUCO CHAMPIONS ...

NOWHERE TO GO... or at least that's what GW Quarterback Sid Bryson seems to see as linebacker Frank Fragomeni draws a bead on the caged 'Dog. Coming up to corral Bryson is linebacker Frank James and tackles Terry Knowles and Steve Carnes.

Lees-McRae had a close score before winning a benefit game against Emory and Henry at the Avery High field. Richard Riley scored both touchdowns on the way to a hard fought 13-7 victory. However, the defense was the key to this game recovering two fumbles and stopped every "WASP" threat except one. George Porter, Gerald McGown, and Frank Fragomeni were again instrumental in the success of Coach Litton's defense.

The 'Cats overcame both mud and hurricane to stop the Chowan Braves 27-0. The mighty 'Cat offense ground out 237 yards with hardnosed tactics. Rick Ard turned in the most spectacular run of 32 yards for a TD in the second quarter. The defense was tremendous as it allowed minus rushing yardage in the first half. It even got into the scoring act as George Porter returned a blocked punt 5 yards for a TD.

Avenging an early season tie the Bobcats demolished the Bulldogs of Gardner-Webb as they paid their final visit to the black hole. Richard Riley scored twice and Parrott threw a TD pass to Bill Miller to round out the offensive scoring. Leading the defense was Lee Thompson as he started his first game at defensive end. He recovered a fumble and led the team in tackles as the second shut-out of the season was recorded.

Lees-McRae's hopes for a trip to Savannah were brought to a sudden stop as they traveled to Virginia to play the mighty Panthers of Ferrum. Both teams were undefeated and national ranking was at stake. The Panther defense completely throttled the high-powered 'Cats offense shutting them out while the Ferrum offense scored four times. The only 'Cat score came on a recovered fumble by Lee Thompson. Both Thompson and Bob Lyerly, who intercepted 3 passes and recovered two fumbles, were outstanding in defense.

Licking their wounds the Bobcats traveled to Western Carolina to play the JV team in a snowy blizzard. The weather kept both teams from running consistant offenses. However, both teams had spectacular punt returns for TDs. The 'Cats' came when Charlie Conners scored on an 81-yard return in the second quarter. Parrott sneaked over from the one in the third quarter and Bernie Saunders kicked a 29-yard field goal to give the 'Cats a 17-6 victory.

The last game of the season was forfeited by Evans College bringing the season record to 8-1-1.

LYTTON-DIRECTED BOBCATS PLACE THIRD IN CONFERENCE ...

Co-captains: David Hunter, Clarence Harris with Coach Jack Lytton.

It was that time of the year and basketballs were bouncing furiously in LMC's Reynolds Gym while outside the Bobcat gridders were preparing for their December 14 clash with Arizona Western in the El Toro Bowl in Yuma, Arizona.

But football was the least of Jack Lytton's worries.

Coach Lytton took a depleted squad, after the first semester of academics claimed seven of his players, and went to the finals in the WCJC Conference and earned a berth in the Regionals where he lost to Ferrum. Gardner-Webb downed Ferrum for the Championship and a berth to the Nationals in Kansas. Lytton, again, had to work miracles. Lost to the 'Cats were Darryl Gibson, All-Conference, and Terry Smith, now wearing ASU's colors. Co-captain Dallas Williams was playing for Milligan. Joe Johnston, who rewrote the record books at LMC, lost the battle of the books. Coach Lytton had only two seasoned veterans back but he was not pessimistic.

Players who looked good early were returning veterans Clarence Harris, Vaughn Sprinkle, Joe Hill, and David Hunter. Greig Fletcher earned a starting position. Franklin Rhyne, Jeff Lytton and Tony Lepore were other standouts who gave the 'Cats a strong bench.

CATS PLACE THIRD IN TOURNEY . . . HARRIS SELECTED ALL-CONFERENCE

The trials and tribulations of coaching are evidenced by Lees-McRae College Head Basketball Mentor, Jack Lytton, in the photos below. LMC News Service photographer, Don Baker, caught Lytton during the Anderson game as the Bobcats saw a 19 point lead cut to 8 points by the Rebels from South Carolina. Lees-McRae went on to win the game 91 to 80, but not before Coach Lytton had suffered several agonizing moments.

"What a revolun' situation this is!" seems to be the expression of this App player as he is surrounded by Hunter, Hill and Harris. Harris got the worst end of the deal as The Mountaineer charged over him when he found no place to go. Coach Lytton soundly trounced his alma mater, 95-67.

Tony Lepore turns on the gas past a North Greenville defender.

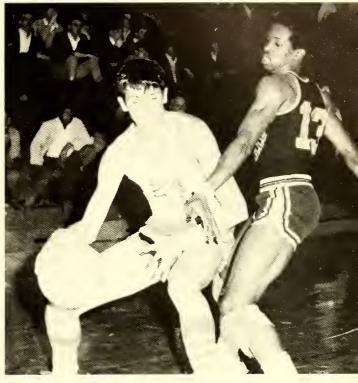

Greg Fletcher seeks operating room around a Wingate Bulldog during torrid action that saw the 'Cats blister the'Dogs 87-61.

Vaughn Sprinkle (12) seems to have momentarily lost the ball.

Flashy Mike Miller out-maneuvers a NG defender during WCJCC Tourney action.

Bobcat leading scorer, Clarence Harris, drives past an Appalachian State defender during game action in rockin' Reynolds gym. Sprinkle (12), in background, directing traffic, paced the 'Cats the following night past Winston-Salem at Avery County High with a 24 point output.

Last minute instructions from the "Play-maker" on the bench to the "Play-maker" on the floor ... Lytton to Sprinkle, "Coach Light taught me all I know, now, I'm tellin' you."

Deadeye Mike Miller goes up and over opponents as he drops one in . . . Looking on are Hunter, Hill and Harris . . . and when Miller started making his "moves" with the ball, all you could do was "look on". – Ask the opposition!

Harris glides past the opposition for an easy twopointer. Harris bucketed 26 for this night's work.

MIKE MILLER COMES IN TO LEAD SECOND SEASON SURGE . . .

Lees-McRae defeated North Greenville twice during the regular season, 72-71 in a squeaker at North Greenville and romped over the Mounties 98-76 at Banner Elk. Jack Lytton's cagers then turned the trick of beating a team three times in one season - a difficult task for any club - But did it to the tune of 86-72.

In the semi-finals, however, they met conference champions Gardner-Webb. The Bobcats played "slow-down" tactics and much to G-W's chagrin the Bulldogs only led 19-18 at halftime. The Bobcat "freeze" thawed in the second half an G-W went on to win 52-35 and the WCJCC crown.

Clarence Harris paced the Bobcats in scoring with a 16.8 average while Vaughn Sprinkle led in field goal and free throw shooting accuracy. Sprinkle also proved his value to the club by leading in assists. Mike Miller, who played only the second half of the season, was the top rebounder with an 11.3 average. Harris, Sprinkle and Miller are sophomores. Coach Lytton's crew will be completely depleted by graduation this year — pointing up the tremendous rebuilding program that lies ahead for the Bobcat mentor next year.

The hot hand of Greig Fletcher paid off for the 'Cats early in the season.

Six-six center and co-captain, David Hunter, seemed to have a knack for getting "sandwiched" during the game but in these shots it is always against North Greenville – those Mounties do play it rough!

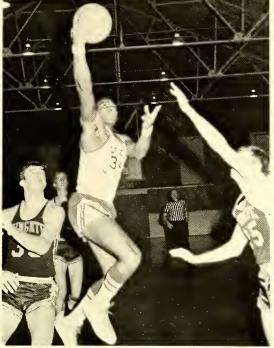

Lees-McRae won the coveted "sportsmanship" trophy, awarded each year by the conference, for the school that showed the best sportsmanship at away games as well as on the home court. It proves "good guys" finish first. Victory or defeat

Bobcat fans hold their heads high displaying true sportsmanship at all times. The trophy is quite a feather in LMC's cap . . . And, our hats are off to the Bobcat teams.

When the Bobcats take to the floor, Reynolds gym is packed with ardent and frenzied supporters and win or lose, the fan can yell the roof off!

BOBCATS MAINTAIN DESIRE, SPIRIT ... LMC WINS "SPORTSMANSHIP"...

WITHOUT RHYNE AND FLETCHER BOBCATS MAKE VALIANT EFFORT IN CONFERENCE TOURNEY

In the opening rounds of the Western Carolinas Junior College Conference Tournament Brevard finished off Wingate, 71-66 and Spartanburg squeeked by a valiant Anderson team that ended up last place in the conference by a 63-62 cliff-hanger. Both opening games were very close squeekers but Lees-McRae turned the third game of the night into a rout and buried North Greenville, 86-72. Lees-McRae rallied from a two-point, half-time deficit to pound North Greenville, 86-72. The Bobcats, colder during the first half than a winter on Beech Mountain, were paced by Mike Miller's 20-point surge in the second stanza after trailing 33-31 at intermission. Miller had 32 points for the entire game. Also in double figures for the Bobcats were Vaughn Sprinkle and Clarence Harris, both with 18.

In the consolation game Lees-McRae edged Brevard 60-59, Greg Headen, sinking 18 of his 30 points in the first half led Brevard to a 28-21 advantage at intermission. Joe Hill gave Lees-McRae the lead at 37-36 with 13:48 left but Headen returned the lead to Brevard, 48-47, with 7:32 remaining. Lees-McRae tied the game, 53-53, on a jumper by Tony Lepore and David Hunter put them out in front, 55-53, with 6:19 left to play. Tenacious defense by both teams ensued for the next six minutes of play with Lees-McRae scoring five points and Brevard scoring six. The Bobcats were down 59-58 with less than 15 seconds to go and a tip in by David Hunter up the Cats ahead 60-59. Brevard gained possession of the ball with ten seconds to go, with Lees-McRae leading at 60-59, but Charlie Hunt's desperation shot failed, conceding the game. Besides Headen's talley Kagel and Hunt paced the Brevard scoring with 12 and 11 points respectively, while Clarence Harris sank 15 and Vaughn Sprinkle netted 14 to lead the Lees-McRae scoring attack

Named to the all-tournament team were Gilmore and George Adams of Gardner-Webb, Mike Miller of Lees-McRae, Gred Headen of Brevard, and Jim Martin of Spartanburg. Gilmore was also tagged the tournament's most valuable player.

Coach Lytton should be more discreet while plotting strategy with Harris - an Anderson player is listening!

TRACK TEAM POSTS WIN OVER GW – PLACE THIRD IN WCJCC TRACK MEET AT BREVARD

In the track opener Lees-McRae dropped a three way meet to Milligan and Brevard. Brevard tallied 98 points, Milligan scored 49 and LM carded 34. The Bobcat cindermen came out on the short end of the score in another three-way clash: Brevard 91½, Wingate 69½, LM 19. Gardner-Webb downed the LM thinclads 83-62, but in a return encounter at Banner Elk the Cats won over the Bulldogs 88-83. Brevard won the conference meet and Lees-McRae finished third in a five tearn field. Gary Tatum scored the most points for the season and earned Most Valuable for the Cats. Frank Fragomeni won the javelin m every event he entered and ran his scoring up in the discus and shot. Bernie Sanders, Gary Moore, and Richard Cofer aided the Cat cause all season and were valuable assets to the Track team. The aforementioned nucleus of the track team are all freshmen and are to be counted on heavily next season.

CONFERENCE AND WCJCC TOURNEY ... RETURN TO WINNING FORM ...

Hugh Taylor was the other soph on the squad with Paul Elwood. These men offered leadership to a host of talented freshmen. Players like Stan Yo-Yo Yount, below, gave the Cats depth. Their depth paid off with a record breaking 6 shut-out matches in a season.

No. 2 man, Dave Morgan helped lead the Cat Netmen to 3 shut-outs against Gardner-Webb – A first for an LMC Tennis Team.

Morgan, however lost twice to his Montreat-Anderson opponent resulting in the failure for his team to post 7 shut-outs, thus winning "the Dog of the Year" award from his team-mates.

GENE GUPTON, DAVE MORGAN NAMED ALL-CONFERENCE

Gupton shows the form that kept him in the No. 1 position for the Bobcats and earned him an all-conference selection along with teammate Dave Morgan. Gupton was voted "Most Valuable Player" by the Bobcat netters, a title he richly deserved.

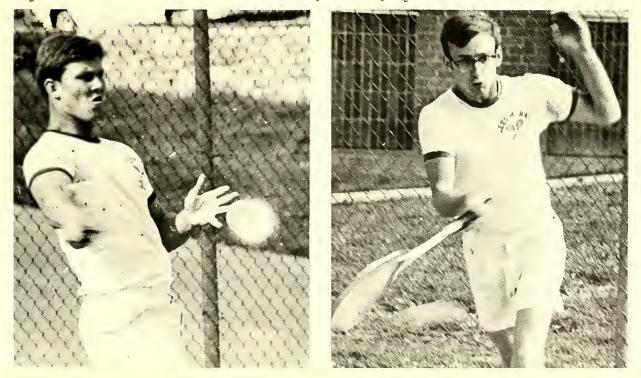

Dave Morgan, net ace from Norfolk, moves in, during doubles action with partner Stan "Yo" Yount, to pick up a shot. Morgan and Yount became a tough combination near the end of the season when they were teamed together ... so effective, in fact, that they were two seeded in the tournament.

Below left, big Lee Thompson is forced to the fence to return a deep shot. The "Mableton Mauler" overpowered his opponents during the season when he wasn't participating in spring football. Lee is captain of the football team for next season and shared his talent with football and tennis. Below right, Hugh Taylor sports a 9-3 record at the No. 3 position. Taylor ended Bill Ratteree's undefeated season at Montreat-Anderson by handing Ratteree his first defeat in 10 starts at 6-3, 6-2. This was the second time in a week that Taylor ended a 'win-streak' for his opponent. Earlier he finished off Rick Slott of Wingate who was 7-0 in the conference and 22-3 over-all. It was also the only loss suffered by Wingate in the conference season.

BILL RUDISILL, RICHARD SCHULTZ SPARK BOBCAT GOLF

The Bobcat linksmen opened at Glen Cannon Country Club at Brevard and lost to the Tornadoes by a slim 26 strokes, but ace Bill Rudisill turned in a blistering one over 73 to earn medalist honors for the match. The Bobcats dropped three further matches before winning the first match of the season against Montreat-Anderson. Bill Rudisill posted a 77 to become match medalist for the third time in the early season - a record he would go on to match for medalist honors in six matches. The 'Cat golfers dropped matches to Appalachian State University and Wingate before ending the season on a winning note by downing Brevard and Montreat-Anderson. George Litton's Bobcat linksmen fired a 472 score to defeat Montreat-Anderson 497 at scenic Mountain Glen Golf Course in Newland. It was the lowest score turned in by a Bobcat golf team and three LM golfers carded 76's to lead the way to the victory. Bill Rudisill, Bobby Craven, Richard Shultz turned in 76 scores to blaze the new record of 472. Danny Woodward had an 81, Buddy Harris carded an 80 and Jim Grahl turned in an 83. In the Conference Tournament at Etowah Valley Country Club, the Bobcat linksmen, who had been hot in matches prior to the tournament, cooled off and did not regain their poise for a better showing than sixth place. Mike Milner came in 21st in a field of 36 with a 128 for 27 holes. Bill Rudisill carded a 131 for 24th spot. Buddy Harris was 25th with a 132, Richard Schultz had a 134 for 29th spot. Danny Woodward carded a 136. Rudisill, Schultz, and Woodward are freshmen and will return to the link wars again next year. Coach George Litton "expects great things from these men.'

INTRAMURALS AFFORD STUDENT OPPORTUNITY TO

A vital part of the athletic tradition is the intramural competition. Intramurals promote sportsmanship and offer students an opportunity to excel in areas outside the academic curricula. The character building competition, the physical outlet for energies and genuine enjoyment are integral parts of the program. Intramurals include flag-football, volleyball, basketball, softball, tennis, gymnastics, fencing, and skiing. The students formed their own teams, and some even held regular practice sessions. The individual events such as tennis, gymnastics, fencing and skiing were strictly direct competition between individuals.

COMPETE . . . SKIING NEW FACET IN LIFE OF LEES-MCRAE

Coaches Proctor and Lytton and Mrs. Lytton directed the team events; Mr. Jackson directed fencing; Mr. Baker organized the tennis tourney and Coach Proctor outlined the ski competition.

Student participation was great; there were 32 women singles entrants in the tennis tourney; 64 men's tennis; over 75 participants in flag-football; more than 50 in the annual powder-puff contest; 73 tried the ski slopes in quest of trophies, while many others just went for pleasure; and more, as students became involved in the LMC way of life through intramurals.

Each student can find some athletic interest in the expansive intramural program at Lees-McRae. His interest and competition make valuable contributions to his college life and education. For Lees-McRae is a way of life and its intramural program is one inseparable factor of this way of living.

After the "touches" die down the fencers get to the point. Fencing, under the certified direction of Richard Jackson, has created as much interest on the campus as skiing. The age-old art is part of the physical education program. On occasion the fencing class performs at intermission of basketball games and at various events.

At right, Deborah Jones sweeps off the ice at the college "skating rink". The tennis courts were flooded and frozen over to provide ice skating for college students. The courts thawed in time to see the tennis team win all but one match on the home courts.

Dr. H. C. Evans, President, is flanked by some of the trophies he awarded at the college sponsored Winter Carnival intramurals and Intercollegiate Skiing competition at Beech Mountain Ski Resort.

Most of the competitors in the intramural skiing at Beech Mountain ended up in the position Miss Betty Joe Maggi of Lenoir, N.C. found herself.

Lees-McRae held its annual Winter Carnival at Beech Mountain in cooperation with the Beech Mountain Ski Resort.

Three hundred and forty students and over a dozen faculty and staff members enjoyed free use of ski equipment and the slopes through the courtesy of Beech Mountain Ski Resort.

The college sponsored its second intramural ski competition with the results as follows:

Men's Slalom – Reid Bahnson (1:10), Jeff Carlton (1:20:3), and Dave Lyles (1:24). Women's Slalom – Mary Sue Baynes (1:32:4), Julie Cowan (1:48:8), and Allison Hillis (1:51). Men's Scramble – Gene Seay (42:2), Jeff Davis (45), and John Dutton (52:2). Women's Scramble – Mary Sue Baynes (1:01), Allison Hillis (1:04:6), and Julie Cowan (1:05:2). Faculty (Men's) Scramble – Cole Proctor (53:7), Phil Teagarden (1:04:2), and Jim Stonesifer (1:05).

Cole Proctor, director of the intramural ski program at the college and Roy Krege, Assistant to the President, awarded trophies to the winners.

This year, the participation was the largest in the history of the event and it is a program that shows all indication of being the most popular intramural activity on campus. Allison Hillis stops to eat pie during the women's scramble competition. The scramble is an obstacle course the participant must go through, and among the hazards one must stop and eat pie. Hillis came in second in the women's scramble. Evidently she did not gulp her pie down as fast as Sue Baynes.

Dr. Evans (left) and Roy Krege are shown with the ASU skiers, winners of the ski competition and Beech Mountain ski instructor Willi Falger (right) who helped coordinate the program with Coach Proctor.

SKIING ON BEECH

ASU sweeps intercollegiate ski competition. Appalachian State University captured both the men's and women's team championship trophies in Lees-McRae's 1st Intercollegiate Ski Competition at Beech Mountain. Sixty-four entries from 16 colleges and universities in Virginia, Tennessee, North and South Carolina were registered by Coach Cole Proctor, campus coordinator of the event. Willie Falger, director of ski instruction at Beech Mountain, was in charge of the action.

ASU's Mark Gustafson, individual winner at :510, teamed with Mark Thomas :53.4 to take the men's championship. Sharon Morris, women's champion at 1:02.6 and teammate Pam Conghenour, both of ASU, won the women's team trophy. Tom Cochone, University of Tennessee, and Elizabeth Nordwall, Lander College placed third in their respective divisions.

The 1968-69 edition of the cheerleaders saw a change in personnel. But no matter which group was cheering they were enthusiastic and supported the Bobcats wherever they went. Their goal was to promote school spirit at all athletic contests. They made signs, held pep rallys, built bon-fires, and were always busy getting more students to attend the games and support the Bobcats. They displayed vitality and a boisterous charm on every occasion. The cheerleaders were representative of the spirit of Lees-McRae and were a valuable asset to the Bobcat cause.

LEES-MCRAE HAS

The Lees-McRae tradition has expanded to meet the social and cultural needs of its students. Instrumental in this expansion has been the entertainment furnished for the students and community. Such topnotch performers as are pictured on the following pages have been at LMC this year. Most of these artists are widely known in the United States and in Europe. They were a part of the overall program of Lees-McRae intended to broaden and heighten each student's cultural horizons. Social and cultural life at Lees-McRae has long been known for its informal atmosphere and friendly student-faculty relationships. The complaint of the university student, "Nobody knows my name," cannot be voiced by a Lees-McRae student who is willing to respond to the greetings of those who meet him on campus. In addition, however, to the every day experience of knowing and enjoying companionship, there is, for the student, the opportunity of taking part in a varied program of social events. Clubs and organizations sponsor soc hops, talent shows, hootenannies, plays, hikes, and picnics, movies, intramural competition, banquets, teas, receptions, and a Halloween Carnival. There are four semi-formal dances: at Homecoming and Christmas, and on Valentine's Day and May Day.

COLLEGE FACULTY, ADMINISTRATION LARGEST

The college under the new leadership of H. C. Evans, Jr., now in his second year as president, is seeking to improve its junior college status and to continue its meritorious programs as designed by the founders and carried on by the past administrations. Dr. Evans has increased the faculty and staff and constantly seeks the improvement of present facilities.

The purpose and function of Lees-McRae College is to provide sound academic curricula within the plan of a junior college for the purpose of developing Christian leadership. The college is a part of the program of higher Christian education of the Presbyterian Church. The Institution is controlled by Trustees elected by Holston Presbytery of the Synod of Appalachia and Concord Presbytery of the Synod of North Carolina.

The College is seeking to maintain a qualified faculty, dedicated to the task of relating Christian truth to all fields of study, both by precept and example. The primary function of Christian education is the inculcation of ideals, loyalties, and attitudes, as well as the motivation and direction of individuals in acquiring knowledge, making choices, accepting responsibilities as citizens in a democracy. Being an institution of higher learning, Lees-McRae seeks to provide a sound educational program. Scholastic excellency is emphasized in terms of the student's needs and abilities to achieve. The students are to be guided by a comprehensive program of counselling and guidance. The programs of study are threefold: First, the student may choose a course of study equivalent to and parallel with the first two years of the four-year college or university undergraduate work. Second, a course of terminal study as provided for those who desire the influence and the cultural environment while pursuing their particular field of certain vocational studies. Thirdly, provision is made for other individuals who have no particular interest in study at a university, but who desire a program of general education.

SCHOOL'S SIXTY-NINE YEAR HISTORY ... IN

All programs, curricular and extra-curricular, recognize an obligation to develop Christian citizenship in the context of sound academic achievement.

In the early days of this institution, the student body was drawn from a small local area due to transportation difficulties. The college believes that this institution should continue to serve the mountain area, although applicants from other areas are encouraged in order to broaden the contacts vital to a liberal education.

DIVISION OF SCIENCE

Tradition that says that a scientist shows how, not why... that develops understanding and appreciation of the scientific methods... that shows the physical bases of existence and explains them objectively; this is just a part of the opportunity that the curriculum of the Division of Science affords.

The Division of Science runs the gamut of the topics dealing with physical existence. It covers the flora and fauna, in general and even specifically in our area; it deals with evolution and with animal development; it studies the chemical make-up of the tangible world; and it considers the relationship of the physical objects from their movements to their reactions; all to enable the student to gain a more enlightened perspective of life.

In the Judeo-Christian tradition and heritage we attempt to examine and understand our lives now and to come. Mr. Broyhill entitled his remarks: "The Length of the Shadow" and explained, "This title is taken from Emerson's comment that," "An Institution is the Lengthened Shadow of one man."

"It is my strong conviction that our moral strength lies in the diversity of the American people and their institutions ... the by-product of success and affluence in a society carries with it deep responsibility ... in the same way your shadow falls across the institutions of your society, your nation's shadow falls across a world in need of the collective wisdom and guidance of all men of good will ... I believe this sums up our time," Mr. Broyhill concluded, "may we understand the great dangers so that the great opportunities will not escape us. This is the broad and special challenge that confronts us all ... be aware of the shadow you cast."

"It is not a sin to be a one-talent man; it is a sin to remain a one-talent man. It would be equally a sin to be a two-talent man, and to be indifferent to turning the two into four. God expects us to make use of our talents and to make use of them for Him, in athletics, in education, and in religion.

That is all I have to say to you, one two-talent man to others. Not all of us will be dramatic successes like the five-talent man. But, note well, in the parable the Lord blessed the two-talent man in the very same words he used on the five, not a syllable was changed. Therefore, hold your heads up high."

IN MEMORIAM

"with faith that comes of self-control, that truths that never can be proved until we close with all we loved and all we flow from, soul in soul."

-Tennyson.

Acknowledgments

We would like to thank those people who helped to compile possibly the best annual in the history of LMC - the Ontaroga for 1969. It would be quite impossible to do justice to the many that have given their time and effort this year.

A special thanks goes to Mr. Don Baker for his inspiration and guidance through the past year. Without his tireless efforts to improve, revise and direct the 1969 Ontaroga would have been impossible to print.

Those members of the annual staff who have repeatedly strived for excellence in the 1969 Ontaroga are: Patricia Haywood, co-editor; Barbara Jessee, Kitty Monk and Beth Heitmann for their superb typing skills. Covering speakers and entertainment events on campus for the features section were Stan Mead and Susan Thompson. Taking care of the finances for the annual were Randy Nichols and his assistant Faith Goodman. Capturing the Lees-McRae "way of life", via candids in the dorms, were Martha Johnson, Richard Bell, Judy Finucan and myself.

To these people go our deepest appreciation: Martha Johnson for her exhaustive labors of typing, layouts and photographic work; Dr. H. C. Evans for his co-operation during the year; and we would especially like to thank our technical advisor, "the sage of the rocks and hills," Wily Bobcat.

We must also thank Delmar Printing Company not only for their help this year but for the service that they have shown over the years as our printer. To our Delmar Representative, Mr. Johnnie Briggs, we would like to give our sincerest thanks for his immeasurable assistance.

To all of those who have made the 1969 Ontaroga a success, I would like to give my heartfelt thanks.

SPECIAL RECOGNITION

Dr. H. C. Evans: To our President, Dr. H. C. Evans, for his friendliness and sincere interest in LMC and his desire to make Lees-McRae one of the foremost junior colleges in the South.

Mr. Charles F. Whitesell: Upon his retirement the 1969 Ontaroga Staff wishes to recognize an outstanding member of the faculty who has so diligently labored for the "Campus in the Clouds."

In recognition of the outstanding record he has compiled during his twenty-eight years at Lees-McRae and for his firmness as well as warmth in dealing with the students and his colleagues, for loyalty, devotion and unselfish service, for his enthusiasm for our Alma Mater.

SOPHOMORES, 1968 FOOTBALL TEAM

The 1968 Football Team and Coaches at the Yuma Bowl: These Sophomore Bobcats probably set a new record and distinguished themselves by playing in two bowl games in as many years. As freshmen they had the privilege of playing in the National Junior College Championship Bowl in Savannah in 1967, and as sophomores journeyed to Yuma to play Arizona Western in the El Toro Bowl. They earn the distinction of being the first in grid history to travel the greatest distance to play in NJCAA sanctioned bowl game as the Bobcats of Lees-McRae College. They brought great prestige and publicity to our school.

Valedictorian, Miss Audrey Joyce Clark: Her achievement in academic excellence, leadership, and all around progress and cheerfulness has endeared her to everyone at L.M.C.

Clark

President of the Student Government Association, Clyde Frank Campbell: We would like to recognize "Soupy" Campbell for his interest in Lees-McRae and its students, and for his efforts in making this a profitable year at Lees-McRae.

Baker

Sponsor of the Ontaroga, Mr. Donald R. Baker: Our undying appreciation goes to the one person whose efforts have been instrumental in the production of the 1969 Ontaroga and the Bobcat Tales.

Campbell

Above all we would like to recognize all students at L.M.C., the Staff and the Faculty and to all the people, including those who are not pictured above, for making Lee-McRae the best junior college in the JUCO arena.
